5.2. Suppliers and collaborators

GPV sources raw materials in different countries. Our ambition is for our suppliers to meet our Code of Conduct which governs ethical, social and environmental responsibilities. It is essential that customers trust us if we are to sell our products. By acting responsibly, communicating openly and maintaining an on-going dialogue with customers, we create the right conditions for trust.

GPV has a set of ethical guidelines for all colleagues with external supplier relationships (see section 1.2. Code of Conduct)

6. Implementation

A number of the above mentioned issues are implemented by the guidelines established by the management and with flow down to the single management teams in each entity and department. Further GPV code of conduct has been signed by all relevant employees in the organisation. Others are implemented by concrete action plans and ongoing measuring with monthly and quarterly follow-up.

As regards to discrimination, child labor, freedom of association and corruption these issues are met to the extent it is possible from the current knowledge. If suspicion appears to the management that any of this is violated, this will be investigated promptly.

Health, security and environment are continuously evaluated. Measures for each focus area have been defined and measured since FY 2010/11, and is available on the GPV web-site. On an annual basis an evaluation of the collection of measures take place and targets for the focus areas for the coming year are set by the group management. Data on all measures are collected from each entity quarterly to evaluate the progress and eventually initiate corrective actions.
